

Youth Leadership Development

Aspiring Peer Leader

MY OUTER VIEW-
RELATING TO OTHERS
BELIEVING IN MYSELF

Emphasizing
The Value of Achievement

Achievement

A strong commitment to the pursuit of the success and personal pride enjoyed in reaching a goal which requires considerable effort, and the application of skills, practice, talents, abilities, and perseverance. The synonyms for the Value of Achievement are: Accomplishment, Attainment, Success, Fulfillment, Feat, Conquest, Consummation, Creation, Master-stroke, Realization, Triumph, Tour de Force, Victory

Our working definition of the Value of Achievement is:

Achievement

Leaders who model the value of Achievement:

1. Are goal oriented, like to see the results of their efforts, and encourage others to do likewise
2. Have learned how to build upon and leverage their successes by making the most of their talents and abilities, and encourage others to do likewise
3. Work hard, displaying Integrity and a high level of motivation, determination, and ambition to achieve their goals, and encourage others to do likewise
4. Have a high level of Self-Confidence coming from a belief in self that projects poise and self-assurance to others who are encouraged to follow their lead
5. Have and project a feeling of personal pride derived from a sense of accomplishment and success in their work, and they encourage others to do likewise
6. Are excellent role models, often displaying great Courage, valor, & gallantry in their accomplishments
7. Are often excellent coaches; their successes make them adept in "Talking the Talk", and especially so in demonstrating how to Responsibly "Walk the Walk"
8. Have earned the respect and admiration of others and are often elevated to the role of "My Hero"
9. Display modesty, humility, & have control of their ego
10. Are often among the first to volunteer to help others
11. Can be counted on for the planning, execution, and leadership necessary to see a project to completion
12. Make great followers and team mates due to their high levels of confidence, skills, drive, and initiative